COOKIES

(6 in plastic bag on small paper plate)

TYPES OF COOKIES

There are five basic types of cookies. All have much the same basic ingredients, but the proportions used, the method of mixing, and the additions result in different finished products.

Drop: Soft dough is simply dropped from a spoon onto a cookie sheet.

Bar: Stiff dough is spread or pressed evenly in flat pan, baked, cooled and cut into bars or squares.

Refrigerator: Stiff, rich dough is shaped into rolls, wrapped, chilled well in refrigerator so that it can be cut into thin slices.

Pressed: Dough is forced through a cookie press or pastry tube into various shapes.

Molded: Stiff dough is rolled between hands into balls, logs, crescents, etc.
